

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I.	PAGE
THE AUTHORESS' DESCENT—Her Birth and Childhood—Early Amazonian Accomplishments—Marriage at the Age of Twelve with van M—— —His Political Affiliations—Removal to France—Captain Marescot's Admiration—Which Evokes Response—The First Downward Step—Departure for Paris—Van M—— Joins the Army—The "Contemporary" Dons Male Attire—and Witnesses the Battle of Valmy—Return to Holland—Attentions from General Grouchy	1
CHAPTER II.
FRENCH INVASION OF HOLLAND—Amsterdam Surrenders to Pichegru—Attack Upon the Dutch Fleet by Cavalry and Artillery—Pichegru's Insincerity—Moreau and Maria—Pichegru a Political Intriguer—The "Contemporary" first Hears of Ney—News of Marescot—Van M—— Learns of His Wife's Relations with Marescot— Van M—— Forgives Her—Which Angers Her—She Runs away from Him	15
CHAPTER III.
ARRIVAL IN UTRECHT—Interview with Grouchy—and with Moreau—Intimacy with Moreau Begins—His Simplicity and Sense of Justice—Campaigning

CONTENTS

in Men's Clothes once more—Pichegru's Treachery—In Paris with Moreau—A House Purchased in Passy—Collision with Mme. Tallien's Carriage—Visits to Mme. Tallien and Drives with Her . . .	27
CHAPTER IV.
MOREAU APPOINTED INSPECTOR-GENERAL OF THE ARMY IN ITALY—The "Contemporary" Goes with Him to Milan—The Casa Faguani—Enthusiasm of Milanese Society for "Madame Moreau"—The Nature of Her Regard for the General—Spies of the Directory—A Dining-room Comedy of Vengeance—Moreau's Desire to Marry Ida—Moreau and Ney Contrasted—All Women Ordered to Leave the Army—Moreau offers to Resign his Career—Ida Meets old Friends in Lyons—Moreau's Military Successes in 1799	39
CHAPTER V.
VISIT TO MME. CONTAT—Her Dramatic Rôles—Departure from Lyons—M. De La Rue, the Banker—Talleyrand's Indebtedness—His Indifference to Perjury—Talleyrand and the Inquisitive Coachman—His Exile—Carnot Prefers Satan to Him—Audience Granted to Ida—Moonlight Walk with Mme. Tallien—Ney's Exploit at Mannheim—Ida Writes an Ardant Letter to Him and a Cold One to Moreau—and Misdirects the Envelopes—The Result	55
CHAPTER VI.
BEAUMARCHAIS—Attempted Suppression of the "Marriage of Figaro"—The Seven of Diamonds—Beaumarchais as a Humorist in Real Life—Dramatic Aspirations of the "Contemporary"—Mor-

CONTENTS

eau's Disapproval of Them—First Impressions of Bonaparte—The Conspiracy of the 18th of Brumaire—The New Constitution and the Consuls—Moreau Marries a Friend of Josephine de Beauharnais—A Pair of Shrews	69
CHAPTER VII.
POWER OF THE BANKERS AND ARMY CONTRACTORS—Their Intrigues—Opulence of the Banker Ouvrard—Festivities at His Estate—A Symposium of Beauty and Brains—Bonaparte's Contempt for Money—Fashionable Dressing Under the Directory—Lucien Bonaparte, Minister of Home Affairs—Chaptal, his Successor—Imprudent M. De Montmorency—The Authoress' Fiasco on the Stage of the Théâtre-Français	83
CHAPTER VIII.
NEY'S PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE DURING THE CAMPAIGNS OF 1800—Moreau's Dislike for Ney—Further Theatrical Venture in the Provinces—Death of Kléber—His Caustic Notes upon Bonaparte—Reminiscence of Valmy—Death of Van M———A Theatrical Company in Pawn—Moreau's Hostility to the First Consul—Bernadotte and the "Butter-pot Conspiracy"—Fouché Prevents a Duel Between Bonaparte and Moreau	95
CHAPTER IX.
LAST MEETING WITH MOREAU—He Goes to America after the Cadoudal Plot—Beginning of Intimate Relations with Ney—Characteristics of Talleyrand—Thousand Franc Bank-notes as Curl-papers—Talleyrand's Stupid Wife—Napoleon Crowned King of Italy—The "Contemporary" at Milan—"Fama Volat"—Amorous Episode with Napoleon—His Way with Women 109

CONTENTS

CHAPTER X.

JOURNEY TO INNSBRUCK—Meeting there with Ney—
Gardane, Governor of the Pages—Dery, a Chival-rous Escort—The Campaign of 1806—The Battle of Eylau—In which the "Contemporary" Rides in a Cavalry Charge—And is Wounded—Interview with Ney after the Battle—Its Cost to France—The
"Red Lion"—Return to Paris 123

CHAPTER XI.

JUNOT'S INCIPIENT MADNESS—Napoleon's Sisters
on Thrones—Description of Elisa Bacciochi, Grand Duchess of Tuscany—Ida's Appointment to Her Court—Rebelliousness of the Tuscans Against French Authority—A Soldier-Sultan—The Authoress' Functions at Court—The Hainguerlots, a Fashionable Pair—Prince Bacciochi his Wife's Loyal Subject—"The Little Napoleon"—Audience with Queen Caroline of Naples—Royal Frocks, Frills, and Small Talk—Murat as an Amateur Tragedian—
His Theatrical Bravery 135

CHAPTER XII.

THE FATAL RUSSIAN EXPEDITION—Journey to Moscow with Nidia—The French Theatre at Moscow—Burning of the City by the Russians—A Scene of Devastation and Pillage—Unscrupulous Looting by the French Troops—Difficulties in Passing the Dnieper—Nidia and Ida Shoot some Cossacs—Privations of Women During the Retreat—And Worse—The Breaking Down of the Beresina
Bridge—A Heartrending Episode—The Last of

CONTENTS

Nidia—The “Bravest of the Brave”—Did he Beat the “Contemporary”?	147
CHAPTER XIII.
JOURNEY TO STYRIA—Louis Bonaparte, King, Novelist, Poet and Philanthropist—Meeting with Ney in the Champs Elysées—A Private Bachelor’s Breakfast with the Marshal—His Tirade against Royalist Intriguers and Flunkey Politicians—A Glimpse at Napoleon’s Plebeian Mother—Commercial Depression at the French Metropolis in 1814—The Lower Classes Regard Napoleon as the Symbol of the Revolution—Another Campaigning Expedition in Men’s Clothes—Elation in Paris over French Victories—While the Allies are Marching upon the Capital	159
CHAPTER XIV.
THE CAPITAL IN DANGER—Marie-Louise and the King of Rome leave the Tuileries—King Joseph’s Hopeful Proclamation—The Battle of Paris—Marshal Moncey’s Gallant Defence—Capitulation—“Our Good Friends the Enemies”—Napoleon Surrounded by the Allies at Fontainebleau—He Attempts Suicide—Signs the Treaty of Abdication—Farewell to His Soldiers in the Courtyard at Fontainebleau—Ida’s Resentment Against Ney for Advising the Abdication	171
CHAPTER XV.
LAZARE CARNOT, A REAL REPUBLICAN—And a Upright Man—And a Patriotic Citizen—He Compares Napoleon with Cæsar and Washington—A Political Breakfast Party—At which the “Contemporary” is Given a Secret Mission—Her Journey to Elba—Reminiscences, by the way, of Napoleon's Journey Thither—How He Escaped Hanging—The Ex-Emperor's Activity as a Landlord—He tells the Authoress of His Dream of a Mediterranean Kingdom—His Status in Exile as a Sovereign—Officials of His Court in Elba	183

CONTENTS

CHAPTER XVI.
IDA'S FRIENDSHIP WITH GENERAL QUESNEL—His Mysterious Assassination—Napoleon sets Foot in France Again—Ney's Inconsistency Excused—His Defection from the Anti-Napoleon Party—Rejoicings at Lons Le Saulnier over the Emperor's Return—Ney's Meeting with Napoleon—The Marshal Explains His Change of Heart—The Ovation at the Tuileries	195
CHAPTER XVII.
THE NEW CABINET—Fouché's Treachery—Carnot Made Minister of Interior—His Noble Motives for Accepting the Portfolio—Fouché's Diverting Views as to the Functions of the Police—His "Moderation"—A Private Breakfast with Ney in the Champs Elysées—Regnault's Apprehension—Hopes of an Alliance with Austria—Political Unrest in Paris—Particulars of the New Constitution—The Grand Ceremony of Its Promulgation—Comments and Criticisms—Napoleon once more Girds His Loins for War—Enthusiam of the Army—The Capital's Fortifications are Strengthened	207
CHAPTER XVIII.
THE LAST CAMPAIGN—Ida follows Ney to Waterloo—His Heroism in the Battle—Calmness of Napoleon—The Retreat—Camilla, Another Military Woman

CONTENTS

—Is Wounded and taken Care of by the Authoress—
The Return to Paris—Carnot's Irrational Hopefulness—He Resists Napoleon's Dethronement Single-handed—The "Contemporary's" Last Interview with Ney—Camilla's Recovery and Disappearance 221

CHAPTER XIX.

BANISHMENT OF CARNOT—Ney's Intended Departure to the United States—He is Arrested at Bessonis—His Chivalrous Refusal to Attempt Escape
—A Plot to Rescue Him—The Court-Martial Declares Itself an Incompetent Tribunal—Ney is Tried Before the House of Peers—Condemned—And Shot—Ida see Him Going to His Execution—Her
Vow of Amendment at His Bier—Conclusion 229

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

Ida Saint-Elme (la "Contemporaine") in 1828 From a rare lithograph	Frontispiece
	FACING PAGE
Amsterdam Towards the Zuyder Zee From an old print	3
Brussels	8
General Kellermann Drawn by Bonneville and engraved by Claesens	11
General Grouchy From Rouillard's painting (Historical Gallery of Versailles)	13
General Pichegru A drawing from Steuben's old portrait (Historical Gallery of Versailles)	17
General Victor Moreau From a painting at Versailles	21
Utrecht Facsimile of an old English print	27
Stage Coach of the Napoleonic Era	29
Madame Tallien From an engraving by Leguay	35
Bernadotte, King of Sweden Engraved by Portman	40
General Joubert Engraved after the portrait by Bouchot	52
Mademoiselle Contat, the actress From an old French print	57
Maurice de Talleyrand, the "Abbé Maurice de Périgord"	63
Barras Engraved from a drawing by Raffet	66
Pierre Auguste de Beaumarchais	70

	FACING PAGE
Cambacérés, Second Consul From an engraving by Bonneville	78
Lebrun, Third Consul Drawn by Lacauchie, engraved by Monin	79
Elizabeth, Lady Holland	86
Lucien Bonaparte	90
General Kléber From an oil portrait by Ansiaux	100
Marshal Ney From the painting by Langlois	113
“The Contemporary” during the Campaign of 1806	126
General Junot, Duke d’Abrantès From the painting by Raverat	135
Pauline Bonaparte, Princess Borghese From the engraving by Madame Fournier	137
Princess Elisa Bacchioni, Sister of Napoleon	139
Caroline Murat, Queen of Naples, Sister of Napoleon From an engraving by Hopwood	142
Joachim Murat, King of Naples Reproduction of an old London print	145
Burning of Moscow in 1812	151
Louis Bonaparte, King of Holland	159
Fouché, Duke d’Otranto Engraved by Wolff after Girardet’s drawing	163
Letitia Bonaparte, Mother of Napoleon	165
The King of Rome, Napoleon’s Son Engraved by Dosselmann	173
Joseph Bonaparte, King of Spain	176
Napoleon bidding his soldiers farewell at Fontainebleau before going to Elba	180
Lazare Carnot	186
Marshal Cambronne	193

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

XV

	FACING PAGE
Regnault de Saint-Jean-d'Angély	199
Count Caulaincourt	207
Madame de Staël From an old painting in a private collection	215
Cambronne at Waterloo	223
Ida Saint-Elme, (the "Contemporary")	228
General Augereau After Portman's engraving	232
Marshal Moncey, Duke de Conegliano	233