

TABLE OF CONTENTS

VOLUME III

CHAPTER I. THE DEVASTATION OF PRUSSIA	PAGE
The Effects of Jena and Auerstädt — Degeneracy of the French Soldiers — Napoleon's Abuse of Queen Louisa — The Occupation of Berlin — Conduct of the French Generals — Turkey and Russia at War — The Berlin Decree — A Roland for an Oliver — Its Disastrous Effect — Napoleon Consents to an Armistice — Treatment of Minor German States — Napoleon as the Liberator of Poland — Condition of the Country	1
CHAPTER II. WAR WITH RUSSIA: PULTUSK
The Seat of War — Change in the Character of Napoleon's Army — The Battle of Pultusk — Discontent in the Grand Army — Homesickness of the French — Napoleon's Measures of Reorganization—Weakness of the Russians—The Ability of Bennigsen — Failure of the Russian Manœuvres — Napoleon in Warsaw	10
CHAPTER III. CHECK TO THE GRAND ARMY: EYLAU
Napoleon's Preparations — His Clever Strategy — The Plan Discovered by the Russians — The Armies at Eylau — Failure of Napoleon's Tactics — The Battle Indecisive — The French Army Demoralized — Napoleon's Anxiety — His Army in Winter Quarters — The Emperor's Activity — Rearrangement of his Forces — An Envoy from the Shah of Persia — Reinforcements from France and Germany — The Neutrality of Austria	17
CHAPTER IV. AN INDECISIVE VICTORY: FRIEDLAND
The State of France — Remedies Proposed by the Emperor — Napoleon's Self-Indulgence — Perplexities of both Combatants in Poland— Opening of the Campaign — Heilsberg — Friedland — The Result Indecisive — The Strategic Problem — The Statesman's Point of View — The Armistice — Napoleon's Resolution — The Czar's Obligations to Prussia — His Attitude Toward Napoleon	26
CHAPTER V. NAPOLEON AND ALEXANDER AT TILSIT
The Floating Pavilion — Emperor, Czar, and King — The Two Principals — Their Relation to Frederick William — A Diplomatic Novelty — Napoleon's Motives — Great Britain and the World's Commerce — The Orders of Council — Napoleon's Decrees —Russia as an Ally — The Ministers and the Negotiations — Imperial Amusements — The Fate of Turkey — The Two Friends — Work after Play	37

	PAGE
CHAPTER VI. THE TREATY OF TILSIT
Two Equal Empires — Central Europe and the Orient — Prussia as a Second-rate Power — The Grand Duchy of Warsaw and the Kingdom of Westphalia — Napoleon and Frederick William — Queen Louisa of Prussia — The Meeting of Napoleon and Louisa — Courtesy and Diplomacy — The Bitterness of Disappointment — The Last Plea — Prussia's Humiliation — The Parting of the Emperors — Alexander's Disenchantment — Napoleon's Gains and Losses	47
 CHAPTER VII. THE PATH OF NAPOLEONIC EMPIRE
Napoleon and the Neutral Powers — The Protectorate of Portugal and the End of Etruria — Annexation of the Papal Legations — Seizure of the Danish Fleet by Great Britain — The Degradation of Spain — Godoy's Impolicy — The Spanish Court and the Heir Apparent — Effects of the Russian Alliance in Paris — Napoleon's Commentary on the Treaty — His Administrative Wisdom — Public Works in France — The Jews in France — The Sanhedrim — Napoleon's Successful Reforms — War Indemnities and Finance — Annoyances of the Continental System	56
 CHAPTER VIII. THE NEW FEUDALISM
Imperial France — The Aristocracy — The Vassal Sovereigns — Suppression of the Tribunate — The Right of Entail — Evasions of Law — The New Nobility — Titles and Emoluments — Style in the First Empire — Theory of the University — Its Establishment — The Lycées — Effects of the System — Regulation of the Court — The Emperor's Moods — Matrimonial Alliances with Royalty — Gloom at Court — Decline of Talleyrand's Influence — His New Rôle	66
 CHAPTER IX. THE EMPIRES OF LAND AND OCEAN
Diplomacy at St. Petersburg — Internal Politics of Russia — Alexander's Perplexities — War between Great Britain and Russia — New Orders in Council — The Milan Decree — Position of the United States — The Regeneration of Prussia — Napoleon's Repressive Measures — Austria's New Army — Diplomatic Tension between Russia and France — Designs of Napoleon as to Egypt — He Temporizes with Alexander — Caulaincourt and Tolstoi — The Czar's Demands — Napoleon's Visit to Italy — Limitations of his Ambition — Visions of Oriental Empire — Control of the Mediterranean — His Proposition to Russia — His Complete Program	79
 CHAPTER X. FRENCH EMPIRE AND EUROPEAN NATIONALITY
Diplomatic Fencing with Russia — Caulaincourt and Romainzoff — Plight of the Czar — Napoleon and the Papacy — The Pope a Prisoner — The House of Braganza — Partition of Portugal — Flight of the Royal Family — Junot's Aspirations — The Condition of Spain — The Court — The Crown Prince — The Popular Factions — Napoleon's Plans — Quarrel of Charles and Ferdinand — Trial of Ferdinand — Invasion of Spain — Napoleon and Lucien at Mantua — Napoleon and Joseph at Venice — Godoy Thwarted — The French Armament — The Humiliation of Spain — Fall of Godoy — Abdication of the King	92

	PAGE
CHAPTER XI. THE AWAKENING OF SPAIN
The Spaniards and their Dynasty — Murat's Fatal Blunder — Louis Napoleon and the Spanish Throne — Napoleon's Subterfuge — A Trap for Charles and Ferdinand — The Course of Savary — Napoleon and Ferdinand — Dethronement of the Spanish Bourbons — Quarrels of Father and Son — The Madrid Massacre — Ferdinand a Prisoner — Napoleon's Idea of Legitimacy — The Spanish Cortes at Bayonne — Joseph, King of Spain — The Spanish People — Agitations in Madrid — Uprising of Spain	108
 CHAPTER XII. THE FIRST REVOLT OF NATIONS
The New Rôle of Spain — Guerrilla Warfare — The French Cowed — The Capitulation of Baylen — The French Retreat from Spain and Portugal — Complaints of King Joseph — Napoleon's Exasperation — Imperialist Sentiment in France — The Emperor's Determination — The Spirit of Prussia — The Work of Stein — The Revolution in Turkey — Austria's Anxieties — War Feeling at Vienna — Napoleon Turns to the Czar — Alexander's Hesitancy — Napoleon's Misrepresentations — Austria Warned — Talleyrand and the Czar — Napoleon's Allocution at St. Cloud	120
 CHAPTER XIII. NAPOLEON AND ALEXANDER AT ERFURT
Napoleon's Imperial Hospitality — The Interviews of Napoleon and Goethe — Meeting of Napoleon and Wieland — Their Conversation — The Gains of Russia — Dangerous Elements in the Dual League — Austria Menaced — Napoleon's Marital Relations — Fouché's Machinations for the Divorce of Josephine — Napoleon's Proposal for a Russian Princess	133
 CHAPTER XIV. THE FAILURE OF THE SPANISH CAMPAIGN
The Grand Army in France — Their Entrance to Spain — The Opposing Forces — Napoleon's Strategic Plan — French Victories — Sir John Moore — The British and Spaniards — Napoleon's Advance to Madrid — His Return Northward — Moore's Retreat — Napoleon at Paris — Death of Moore — The Napoleonic Constitution for Spain — Spanish Resistance — Joseph's Weakness — Establishment of the New Monarchy	141
 CHAPTER XV. THE TRANSFORMATION OF AUSTRIA
Dangers in Napoleon's Rear — The State of Paris — Austria Warlike — The Czar's Policy — National Monuments in Germany — Napoleon's True Position — Talleyrand's Responsibility — The Needs of France — The Conscription again Anticipated — The Archduke Charles — War Declared by Austria — Charles's Appeals to National Sentiment — Imperial Excess and Dynastic Moderation — The uprising of the Tyrol — Austria's Successes	149

	PAGE
CHAPTER XVI. THE FIFTH WAR WITH AUSTRIA: ECKMÜHL
Strategic Preliminaries — Final Orders — The Defensive Plan of Austria — Berthier's Failure — Napoleon's Arrival at Donauwörth — The Height of Napoleon's Ability — The Austrian Advance — The First Collision — Concentration of Napoleon's Army — The Austrians Divided — The Austrians at Eckmühl — The Battle — Charles's Retreat — The Five Days' Fight — Its Results — Charles at the Bisamberg — Napoleon at Vienna — The German Risings Demoralized — Discrimination of the People — Napoleon's Unsuccessful Appeal to Hungary — Pius VII. Loses his Secular Power — Napoleon's Activity — Charles's Sluggishness — Plans of both Generals — Napoleon on the Lobau	157
CHAPTER XVII. ASPERN, ESSLING, AND WAGRAM
The Marchfeld — Tactics of the Two Armies — The Battle in Aspern and Essling — The Indecisive Result — Napoleon's Retreat — Character of the Battle — Discontent in the French Army — The Spirit of Austria — Preparations to Renew the Conflict — The French Army on the Lobau — Napoleon's New Tactics — The First Day of Wagram — Napoleon's Use of Artillery — The Second Day of Wagram — The Victory Dearly Bought — A French Panic — Napoleon's Dilemma	169
CHAPTER XVIII. THE PEACE OF SCHÖNBRUNN
Schill and the Duke of Brunswick — Andreas Hofer — The Armistice of Znaim — The Northern Powers Adhere to France — Wellesley's Successes in the Peninsula — The Walcheren Expedition — Negotiations for Peace — Austria a Second-rate Power — Attempt on Napoleon's Life — His Great Uneasiness — The Tyrol Subdued — The Pope a Prisoner.	180
CHAPTER XIX. NAPOLEON'S FATAL DECISION
Napoleon's Explanations to Alexander — His New Manner — Sad Plight of Josephine — The Divorce Announced and Confirmed by the Senate — Negotiations for the Czar's Sister — Napoleon's Impatience — His Desire for a Great Match	188
CHAPTER XX. THE AUSTRIAN MARRIAGE
Anxieties of the Austrian Court — The Plan for a Matrimonial Alliance with Napoleon — Opening of Formal Negotiations — The Deliberations in Paris — Napoleon's Decision — The Czar's Indignation — The Ceremonies at Vienna — Napoleon's Preparations — His Meeting with Maria Louisa — The Wedding — Gifts and Rejoicings — Impressions of the New Empress — The New Dynasty	193
CHAPTER XXI. RIGORS OF THE CONTINENTAL SYSTEM
Measures of Ecclesiastical Procedure — Reforms in the Church — Napoleon as Suzerain of the Pope — Methods of Defying the Continental System — Measures to Enforce it — Rearrangement of German Lands — Napoleon as a Smuggler — "Simulated Papers" — Evasions of the Imperial Restrictions — Visit to the Netherlands — Napoleon and his Brother Louis — The Latter Defiant — Louis's Negotiations with England — Fouché's Interference — His Counterplot	201

	PAGE
CHAPTER XXII. THE CONTINENTAL SYSTEM COMPLETED
The Bayonne and Rambouillet Decrees — Fouché Replaced by Savary — Abdication of King Louis — Conduct of Louis and Lucien — Holland Incorporated in the Empire — Napoleon's Relatives Untrue to his Interests — French Empire at its Greatest Extent — The Continental System as Perfected — Discontent in Russia and Sweden	210
CHAPTER XXIII. THE COURSE OF THE PENINSULAR WAR
Napoleon's Plans for Spain — Character of the Troops Sent thither — Conflicting Policies in England — The Battle of Busaco — The Lines of Torres Vedras — Soult's Dilatoriness — Consequences of the Spanish Campaign — English Opinion Opposed to Wellington — Difficulties of Spanish Warfare — Marmont Replaces Masséna — French Successes — Their Slight Value — The French Character and the Spanish Invasion	216
CHAPTER XXIV. BIRTH OF THE KING OF ROME
England Under the Continental System — End of Constitutional Government in France — Napoleon's Personal Rule — Wealth of his High Officials — Literature and the Empire — Mme. de Staël's Aspirations — Her Attempts to Win Napoleon — Her Genius Saved by Defeat — The Decennial Prizes — Pregnancy of Maria Louisa — The Heir of the Napoleon Dynasty	224
CHAPTER XXV. TENSION BETWEEN EMPEROR AND CZAR
Menaces of War — Napoleon's "Extraordinary Domain" — Rupture of the Concordat — The Prospect of War — The Empire Prepared for a Commercial Siege — Napoleon's Self-Deception — The Empires of Ocean and Continent — The Czar's Humiliation — Poland and the French Empire — Alexander's Approach to Francis — Spurious Negotiations	231
CHAPTER XXVI. THE ARRAY OF NATIONS
Estrangement of France and Russia — Premonitions of War — Alexander's Secret Policy — The Various Factors in the Situation — Bernadotte — The Eve of a General Conflagration — England and Prussia — Austria and Prussia — Alliance between Sweden and Russia — England and the United States — The Confederation of the Rhine — The State of France	238
CHAPTER XXVII. THE CONGRESS OF KINGS
Forebodings — Napoleon and Maria Louisa — The Czar's Ultimatum and the Emperor's Choice — Napoleon's Last Diplomatic Move — The Imperial Court at Dresden — Napoleon and Poland — The Health of Napoleon — His Strategic Powers Undiminished	247
CHAPTER XXVIII. THE INVASION OF RUSSIA — BORODINO
Success and Failure — The Struggle with Summer Heat — Napoleon at Vitebsk — The Russians Over-confident — The Fight at Smolensk — Technical Victory and Real Defeat — Napoleon's Fatal Decision — The Russians at Borodino — The Battle Array — Napoleon's Victory — Russian Efforts to Burn Moscow	254

CHAPTER XXIX. THE EVACUATION OF MOSCOW

The Reasons for Napoleon's Advance — The Importance of Moscow — The Burning of the City — The French Occupation — The Military Situation — Alexander's Steadfastness — Napoleon's Impatience — The Strategic Problem — The Exaggeration of the Factors — The Plan of Retreat — Malojarslavetz — Napoleon's Vacillation	263
--	-----

LIST OF ILLUSTRATIONS

VOLUME III

“1807” — FRIEDLAND	Frontispiece
	FACING PAGE
QUEEN LOUISA OF PRUSSIA	4
MARSHAL MICHEL NEY	13
A CARBINEER	17
MAP OF THE BATTLE OF EYLAU	18
THE FOURTEENTH OF THE LINE AT EYLAU (CORMON)	21
THE FOURTEENTH OF THE LINE AT EYLAU (ROYER)	22
FREDERICK WILLIAM III	24
“VIVE L’EMPEREUR!”	28
MAP OF THE BATTLE OF HEILSBURG	30
FRANÇOIS-JOSEPH LEFEBVRE	33
MAP OF THE BATTLE OF FRIEDLAND	33
NAPOLEON DECORATING THE RUSSIAN GRENADIER AT TILSIT	37
THE GORGEOUS DRUM-MAJORS	40
NAPOLEON RECEIVING THE QUEEN OF PRUSSIA AT TILSIT	44
NAPOLEON AND ALEXANDER AT TILSIT STUDYING THE MAP OF EUROPE	51
THE INCIDENT OF THE ROSE	54
MEETING OF NAPOLEON AND TOLSTOI IN PARIS, 1807	57
NAPOLEON IN HIS STUDY	61
JEAN-ANDOCHE JUNOT	64
THE EMPRESS JOSEPHINE IN THE PARK AT MALMAISON	68
JEAN-JACQUES-RÉGIS DE CAMBACÉRÈS	73
FREDERICA CATHERINE SOPHIA DOROTHEA	74
MARRIAGE OF PRINCE JÉRÔME BONAPARTE AND PRINCESS FREDERICA CATHERINE OF WÜRTEMBERG	76
JÉRÔME BONAPARTE	80
THE PASSAGE OF THE FORD	84
NAPOLEON DICTATING TO HIS SECRETARIES	89
ANNE-JEAN-MARIE-RENÉ SAVARY	91
ARMAND-AUGUSTIN-LOUIS DE CAULAINCOURT	94
THE FRENCH ARMY IN THE MOUNTAINS OF PORTUGAL	96
THE ARREST OF FERDINAND	101
AN EPISODE OF THE SIEGE OF SARAGOSSA	105
THE ENTRY OF FERDINAND INTO MADRID	108
MARSHAL JOACHIM MURAT	111

	FACING PAGE
GODOY TAKEN INTO CUSTODY BY THE SPANISH TROOPS	113
JOSEPH BONAPARTE	116
THE BURNING OF A PALACE OF GODOY BY THE POPULACE AT MADRID	120
THE CAPITULATION OF BAYLEN	124
CHARLES AND FERDINAND AT BAYONNE	129
NAPOLEON AND ALEXANDER AT ERFURT	134
MARSHAL BON-ADRIEN JANNOT DE MONCEY	136
NAPOLEON, GOETHE, AND WIELAND	140
MAP OF THE SPANISH CAMPAIGN	142
NAPOLEON AND THE FRENCH TROOPS REACHING THE CONVENT AT THE SUMMIT OF THE GUADARRAMA MOUNTAINS	145
ANTOINE CHARLES LOUIS COLLINET, COUNT OF LASALLE	147
SIR JOHN MOORE	148
FIGHTING IN THE STREETS OF ESSLING	157
ARRIVAL OF NAPOLEON AMONG THE BAVARIANS AND SAXONS	160
MARBOT AND LABÉDOYÈRE SCALING THE WALL AT RATISBON	162
DOMINIQUE-JOSEPH-RENÉ VANDAMME	165
REAPPEARANCE OF NAPOLEON ON THE FIELD BEFORE RATISBON	167
MAP OF THE BATTLE OF ECKMÜHL	168
MAP OF THE BATTLE OF WAGRAM	168
MAPS OF THE BATTLES OF ASPERN OR ESSLING	169
NAPOLEON BONAPARTE IN 1809	170
NAPOLEON AND MARSHAL LANNES AT ESSLING	174
MARSHAL JEAN LANNES	179
DEFENCE OF THE GRANARY AT ESSLING	182
THE BATTLE OF WAGRAM	186
BUILDING THE BRIDGE AT THE ISLAND OF LOBAU	190
BATTLE OF ZNAIM, JULY 11, 1809	195
DETAIL FROM THE RELIGIOUS MARRIAGE OF NAPOLEON AND MARIA LOUISA	199
LOUIS BONAPARTE	202
A DAY OF REVIEW UNDER THE EMPIRE, PLACE DU CARROUSEL	211
NAPOLEON AT COMPIÈGNE	214
MARSHAL LOUIS-GABRIEL SUCHET	219
THE CANTINIÈRE OF THE 26 TH REGIMENT CLIMBING THE ROCKS AT BUSACO	222
MARSHAL NICHOLAS-JEAN-DE-DIEU SOULT	226
IMPERIAL RECREATION	230
ALEXANDER I.	235
MARIA LOUISA AND THE KING OF ROME	242
ARRESTING DESERTERS	244
MICHEL-LOUIS-ETIENNE	247
HUGUES-BERNARD MARET	251
NAPOLEON AND THE EMPRESS OF AUSTRIA AT DRESDEN	252
THE FRENCH ARMY CROSSING THE NIEMEN	254
MAP OF RUSSIAN CAMPAIGN	258
COUNT JEAN RAPP	258